

Nikolay Ivanovich Dzyubenko, Editor-in-chief of the “Proceedings on Applied Botany, Genetics and Breeding”, Dr. (Biol.Sci.), Prof., Head, Perennial Forage Crops Genetic Resources Department, Director, Federal State Budgetary Scientific Institution “Federal Research Center the N.I. Vavilov All-Russian Institute of Plant Genetic Resources” (VIR).

N.I. Dzyubenko is the author of 170 scientific works, of which 125 have been published in national and 45 in foreign publications. Methodology, population genetics, as well as practical use of plant genetic resources in the economy of the Russian Federation are the main aspects in the research work that N.I. Dzyubenko carries out on genetic resources of cultivated plants. He is a co-author of seven commercialized cultivars of perennial forage crops.

N.I. Dzyubenko is the Chairman of the Scientific Council of the Institute, Chairman of the Doctoral Dissertation Council D006.041.01, member of the Editorial Board of “Plant Resources” and “Agricultural Biology” journals. He is a member of the Council of the St.Petersburg Branch and a member of the Central Council of the Vavilov Society of Geneticists and Breeders (VOGiS).

N.I. Dzyubenko is the Vice-Chair of the Expert Awarding Commission on Awarding the N.I.Vavilov Golden Medal, a member of the Commission on Awarding the St.Petersburg Government N.I. Vavilov Prize and a member of the Commission of RAS for the Preservation and Development of Scientific Heritage of Acad. N.I. Vavilov.